ABOUT

Multidisciplinary Product & UX Designer in Los Angeles, building context-aware solutions for real estate, catering management, and digital archives. I navigate ambiguous briefs to deliver shipped products—from conversational AI assistants to full-scale WeChat Mini Programs. A strong background in brand and motion ensures cohesive design across all user touchpoints.

WORK EXPERIENCE

VortexNet

UX / Product Designer | Los Angeles, CA | May – Sep 2026

- Led research with 18 screened ADU decision-makers (surveys, semi-structured interviews, task-based usability testing); identified two core user types — investment-driven vs. family-driven homeowners — and 4 key issues, reframing the assistant from a Q&A chatbot into a context-aware decision-support experience.
- Redesigned recommendations to explain the “why” behind each match (user priorities, trade-offs, next steps); introduced page-aware context and adaptive comparison states so users keep context while comparing 3 ADU models side by side.
- Designed a consent-based specialist handoff: the assistant generates an editable summary that users review before sharing, addressing continuity and privacy concerns.
- Iterated to v12 across 6 PM review rounds; the adopted design increased prototype task completion by 28% and is projected to lift lead conversion by 29% post-launch.

Sangtiti Catering

Visual & UI Designer | Chongqing, China | May 2023 – Jun 2024

- Streamlining user flows and information architecture, which improved the mobile ordering experience and increased the task conversion rate by 18%.
- Expanded the Anaago brand across campaigns, social channels, and physical spaces, producing photography, video, and motion through AI-assisted workflows.
- Partnered with the art director to implement brand-aligned spatial graphics and on-site materials, successfully driving a 31% increase in offline-to-online (O2O) member registrations.

Sunsea Parking

Graphic Design Intern | Beijing, China | May – Aug 2021

- Set the visual direction for annual events, delivering brochures, logos, and digital graphics for departmental communications.
- Produced photo and video content and coordinated delivery across a five-person, cross-regional team.

SELECTED WORK

Field Brief | Apple Maps Redesign

Product / UX Designer | Self-initiated | Mar – May 2026

- Synthesized outdoor-planning research and benchmarked competing map and trail apps to define prioritized pre-trip guidance inside Apple Maps.
- Developed information architecture and high-fidelity UI with an SF Symbols-based icon system aligned with Apple platform conventions.
- Delivered a motion prototype and product film to communicate the feature's value to stakeholders.

ZNTR | Brand & Web Experience

Brand / Web / Motion / AI Visual Design | Apr – Jun 2025

- Created a modular identity and web experience for a sports-culture archive, combining indexed editorial layouts, expressive typography, motion, and AI-generated imagery.
